Feedback from a car paint dealer in Mexico:

As a person who has been engaged in the auto paint wholesale industry for many years, I have been looking for a high-quality and stable car paint supplier. Since cooperating with Meklon, I have completely solved this problem. Meklon's car refinish paint is rich and accurate in color, and each color adjustment can perfectly match the original color of the vehicle, so that the repaired vehicle can hardly see any color difference. Its durability is even more amazing. After long-term use and the test of various weather conditions, the paint surface still maintains good gloss and integrity. Not only that, Meklon's service is also excellent. Their technical support team is always able to answer our questions in a timely manner and provide professional painting suggestions. This has greatly improved our work efficiency and customer satisfaction has continued to rise. I believe that as long as we continue to cooperate with Meklon, business will definitely get better and better.
