Manufacturer Introduction

Guangzhou Meklon Chemical Co., Ltd. was established in 2010 and is a professional manufacturer of automotive paint with 20 years of deep industry experience. Since its establishment, we have started as a small team with weak technical foundations and continuously honed our skills in fierce market competition. With firm beliefs and continuous innovation, we have gradually overcome technical difficulties, optimized production processes, and improved product quality. We have now grown into a highly recognized high-quality automotive coating supplier in the industry, providing reliable coating solutions for global customers.

The company's modern production base covers an area of 3000 square meters, integrating research and development innovation, efficient production, and strict quality control.

In terms of technological breakthroughs, we have independently developed high-performance automotive paint formulas with intellectual property rights, significantly improving the hardness, weather resistance, and glossiness of the paint surface, forming a core competitive advantage for our products. The company has a complete color masterbatch system and exclusive color cards, independently developed finished paint color schemes covering multiple car models, and launched a special formula series for car models in markets such as Russia and Kazakhstan. Relying on our independently developed intelligent color matching formula software, we have achieved precise and efficient color customization and management.

At present, our finished paint technology has matured, and our product line fully covers:

Primer system: 1K primer, 2K intermediate primer

Topcoat system: 2K color paint, topcoat varnish

Supporting materials: diluent, curing agent, atomic ash, eye filling ash, decorative paper, sandpaper, etc

Meklon is committed to providing high-value coating solutions for automotive repair, industrial painting, and personalized modification fields through continuous technological innovation, stable product quality, and professional global services.
