Product Description

Manufacture Introduction

Our production plant was established in 2010. It has gradually grown from an initial small factory to a modern enterprise with large production scale, complete industrial chain, advanced equipment and high production efficiency. Since its establishment, Guangzhou Meiliang Chemical Technology Co., Ltd. has also participated in many domestic and international exhibitions. Production scale: The factory covers a large area and has many advanced automated production lines to meet the needs of different customers.

Complete industrial chain: From raw material procurement, production and processing, quality inspection to packaging and transportation, a complete industrial chain has been formed to ensure the quality and supply stability of the products.

Advanced equipment: Advanced domestic and foreign production equipment and technologies such as automated spraying equipment and high-precision testing instruments have been introduced to improve production efficiency and product quality. In summary, our MITSUBISHI X03 (1K) black car paint has won high praise and satisfaction from customers for its high quality, excellent effect, high gloss, weather resistance, reasonable price, and comprehensive after-sales service. We will continue to work hard, constantly improve product quality and service level, and provide customers with better products and services.
