Product Description

Core advantages of the product

Factory direct supply

By eliminating intermediate links and offering significant price advantages, we provide customers with cost-effective procurement solutions.

Stable supply, able to meet the demand for large quantities of orders, ensuring the continuity of customer production or maintenance work.

High purity

The pigment has high purity and can present a pure and full white effect, with high color saturation, making the car surface have excellent visual effects after coating, enhancing the overall beauty of the vehicle.

The coating has strong covering power, which can effectively cover substrate defects, reduce spraying frequency, improve construction efficiency, and reduce construction costs.

Low VOC environmental protection

The volatile organic compound (VOC) content is low, meeting strict environmental standards such as China's national standards, reducing pollution to the atmospheric environment, and protecting the health of construction workers and surrounding residents.

Reduce volatile odors, minimize the emission of irritating odors during construction and use, and provide a healthier and more comfortable working and usage environment.

Special White Effect

Presenting a unique white color tone with high brightness and good glossiness, making the car appearance brighter and more dazzling, showcasing a high-end and fashionable temperament.

White has good stability, is not easily yellowed or discolored, maintains a white and fresh appearance for a long time, and extends the service life of the car paint surface.

Scope of application

Suitable for repairing and painting all types of cars, including sedans SUV, Commercial vehicles, etc. Whether it's new car spray painting or old car refurbishment, ideal results can be achieved. At the same time, it is also suitable for white coating on surfaces of automotive parts, motorcycles, etc.

Service Support

We provide professional technical support and after-sales service, including construction guidance, color suggestions, quality assurance, etc. Ensure that any issues encountered by customers during use are promptly resolved, leaving you with no worries.
